

We are in a time of rapid change when it comes to using data to understand and improve health and safety. Join this webinar to learn how data can be used to inform and support Safe Routes to School initiatives. Hear from speakers about the importance of data, learn about ways in which data is becoming more accessible and useable to communities, and be inspired by innovative uses of data across the country.

SPEAKERS:

Erin Barbaro, Strategic Director, Institute for People, Place and Possibility

Michelle Lieberman, Technical Assistance Manager, Safe Routes to School National Partnership

Paul Mackie, Communications Director, Mobility Lab

Nick Sims, Assistant Vice President, Early Childhood Education and Healthy Communities, United Way of Central Alabama

This webinar is part of a regular series of free webinars brought to you by the Safe Routes to School National Partnership. Our webinar series focuses on topics related to Safe Routes to School, complete streets, active places, and other policy and program initiatives that increase walking and bicycling to school and in daily life.
